There will be no meetings in our own congregations but all will be merged into this joint service.

We also extend the invitation to people of every faith and of no faith to come to this historical meeting. ## CRUEL FATE TEARS 14 YEAR OLD BRIDE FROM HUBBY'S ARMS

Cruel fate intervened to tear the bride from her bridegroom, when Noah Dever, the unrelenting father of 14 year old Mildred Dever Rayburn, brought suit in common pleas court Wednesday morning to annul her marriage to 16 year old Errol Rayburn, her husband of a day.

Dragged from the arms of her boy bridegroom, the little girl wife weeps alone and desolate at the home of her parents on the Bickett road, while the heartbroken husband remains with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rayburn on Home avenue.

Errol and Mildred went all alone, by themselves, to Covington, Ky. Monday, while everybody in Xenia was celebrating the peace news, and they thought they wouldn't be missed, and they got a marriage license and somebody who hadn't any scruples about babies getting married, performed the ceremony.

Then, of course, like all the other elopers, they sent a telegram home, "Married. Coming home right away. Errol and Mildred." That was enough. An irate parent of each waited at the railroad station, and when the elopers stepped off the train, what each got right then and there, should have been enough for naughty children playing at marriage.

In the suit to annul the ceremony, which was brought by Noah Dever as the father and next friend of the child wife, Errol Rayburn and his father, Glen Rayburn, are made defendants. The petition says that the couple has not lived together, but that the defendant and his father are seeking to take the girl away from the home of her parents. He wants the marriage declared void, and the defendant's enjoined from interfering with his possession of his daughter. F. L. Johnson is his attorney.

BANDIT HOLDS UP EIGHT DIRECTORS

Cincinnati, Nov. 13.—A masked bandit, with revolver in each hand, held up eight Directors of the Atlantic Building Association Company, 1222 Richmond street, at 8:45 o'clock last night, and, with a confederate, who acted as lookout, escaped with $152 in currency and a handful of bank checks, the exact amount of which the Directors were unable to ascertain.

The Directors had finished their evening's business and were about to depart when the bandit entered. He pointed his weapons at Sidney Pandora, Treasurer, who had the cash in his pocket; President John Gigas and Secretary Wm. Fahrenbruck.

"Come on, I mean business; no fooling," ordered the robber.

The Directors, having in mind the fate of two Directors of the Ninth Ward Building Association, Covington, Ky., who were shot and killed during a raid by bandits last February, offered no resistance.

Pandora handed over the cash and checks. No attempt was made to distract other amounts in a safe. The bandit backed out of the door. Two women saw another man, evidently a lookout, rejoin him, and both disappeared in a lumber yard near the Eighth-street viaduct.

Police last night were scouring the West End for trace of the robbers.

POLICING OF SEAS AMERICA'S JOB

Washington, November 13—An important part in the proposed after-the-war international policing of the seas is expected to fall to the American navy. For that reason, it was learned Monday, there is no prospect of any reduction in the present naval strength, and the Administration instead plans to press urgently for the passage of the additional three year building program, recently laid before Congress by Secretary Daniels.

The cessation of hostilities in Europe, it is believed, will permit concentration of energy on speeding up the capital ships program.

Because the country has been less hard hit by the war than the great European Powers, it may assume a disproportionate share of the sea police work for time at least.

As to disarmament possibilities, included in the new world program to be worked out, it was pointed out that President Wilson had thus far proposed reduction of armaments only to a point consistent with domestic security.

In view of the present uncertain situation of the world no one sees to foretell just what naval force must be maintained.

BRIAN TALKS OF HIS HOPES AND DISAPPOINTMENTS TO MOLLIE

CHAPTER LXXXVII.

Things did not work out entirely to Mrs. Clayborne's satisfaction. This was principally due to the fact that Ruth did not lend herself in any way to the schemes her aunt had planned.

Of course Mrs. Clayborne had said nothing of them; she was far too shrewd to make a faux pas of that kind. But whenever possible she advocated accepting Mandel's invitations, and was tactfully effusive when speaking of him to Ruth.

But Ruth was in love with Brian.

Her work done, she was far happier with him than to be at the opera or anywhere else with others. So she managed to evade most of the things Mandel proposed, and to do it in such a way he could but accede.

Brian had tried his best to be natural before Ruth's aunt; but always there was a little constraint in their intercourse, a forced pleasantness, that was obvious to both of them—and to Ruth.

"Don't act afraid of Auntie!" she said to Brian one day, "She won't eat you."

"I'm not afraid of her, but somehow I feel all the time that she blames me for your going to work; that she disapproves of me as a husband for her niece," putting his feelings into words for the first time in many weeks.

"Nonsense! I don't deny Aunt Louisa felt so at first. You remember her letters. But she's all over it now, that she sees what my work is, how happy I am in doing it; how cozy we are, and how nicely we are getting along. Then too, dear, Auntie knows that I love you, that we are happy together. I think she never quite knew how much I cared before." Ruth blushed as she confessed her love for her husband. She was naturally diffident where her affections were concerned, and not often did she say as much.

"Just the same she doesn't like me. It would have pleased her better if you had married a man like Mandel. She's gone daffy about him, by the way she talks."

"It isn't that, Brian," Ruth patiently explained. "It is because he is so kind to me—makes my work so pleasant. Aunt had an idea that all employers were regular slave-drivers. And that employees were terribly overworked and so miserable. She's found out she was wrong. I am so happy that she has, and that when she goes home she will feel differently about us and about my working."

Then, "I wish while she's here you would come over to the shop with her. It seems strange that you never have met my boss," she finished with a smile.

"I don't know why I should meet him! He'd most likely patronize me—or try to."

"Oh, no he wouldn't, Brian. He isn't that kind. Really he isn't dear," as she saw disbelief on Brian's face.

"Then I want to show you my desk. The nice, quiet corner where I can keep to myself."

"Perhaps—some day I'll drop in," he returned, and Ruth had to be contented. He would make no further concession.

It had been two weeks since Mrs. Clayborne arrived, and she was beginning to talk of going home. While she had not been able to do as she wished about throwing Ruth with Mandel, she was not at all disheartened.

"Time, fate, and propinquity have been known to accomplish wonders," she said to herself. "They are much together, he loves her. Hell's not going to stay long this time."

Unfortunately, on the very day that Mrs. Clayborne left for home, Ruth was once more sent out of town on a commission. Brian at once flew to Mollie King for sympathy.

As Light Goes Through Glass

Just as light rays penetrate through glass, so current passes freely through Threaded Rubber Insulation. Nearly 200,000 tiny threads in each insulator mark the path for the current flow.

The hard rubber stands guard against the formation of short circuits between battery plates.

There's another reason why the Still Better Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation is worth so much more than its slightly higher cost. It's the one and only battery with the "Bone Dry" principle that is your absolute assurance of getting a battery as new as the day it left the factory.

Dayton Conservatory of Music TALK NUMBER THREE

There are three general divisions of the Courses of Study at the Conservatory—The "Regular Course," The "Artist Course" and The "Teachers' Course." Each of these courses leads to a final diploma. To complete the regular course, the pupil must cover certain ground, including a course in Harmony. The requirements of the "Artist Course" are that the pupil shall be able to give a complete and artistic public recital in addition to completing the required subjects.

The "Teachers' Course" in the Piano Department is based on the "Progressive Series of Piano Lessons," as published by the Art Publication Society of St. Louis, Mo. This remarkable "text" work, while comparatively new, has already been adopted by thousands of the leading private teachers, Conservatories and Universities of the country, including Cornell University and the Cincinnati Conservatory.

HORSE STARTS FIRE WHICH DESTROYS TWO SMALL BARNS

A horse started a fire which burned two barns and threatened two dwellings on Bellbrook avenue early Tuesday evening.

Cliff Lattimer who rents a barn belonging to Mrs. Theresa Bocklett at the rear of her Bellbrook avenue property, unhitched his horse from his delivery wagon and was removing the harness from the animal in the barn when the horse suddenly kicked him with both feet in the pit of the stomach, knocking him breathless into a corner, and upsetting the lantern into a ton of hay.

The hay blazed up, and it was a minute or so before Mr. Lattimer recovered his breath, and he made his escape from the barn, leading out the horse which had caused the trouble. Mr. Lattimer lost in the fire a ton of hay, five bushels of oats two wagons and two sleighs. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The adjoining barn, belonging to Henry Anderson was in use only for storage, and a quantity of furniture belonging to Thomas Reed, which was stored there was lost. Both barns were insured. Two double frame dwellings belonging to Mr. Bocklett caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before there was much damage done.

THE FALL MEETING OF LATONIA IS ON

Cincinnati, Nov. 13.—After several weeks of anxious waiting the "victory meeting" of the Latonia Jockey Club will get under way Wednesday. The entries issued Tuesday fairly teem with class, and interesting contests should be the result. Horsemen had about despaired of ever getting to run here this fall, and they were even doubtful of the ability of the Jockey club to get along.

The glorious news settled all misgivings, and they were on hand early to hand in their entries.

Splendid weather and ideal track conditions are promised for the opening day.

A CHILD GETS CROSS, SICK AND FEVERISH WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated clean little liver and bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

AN APPEAL TO GREENE COUNTY TO SUPPORT UNITED WAR WORK DRIVE

BY FATHER JAMES E. QUINN
Pastor St. Brigid's Church.

We are called upon once more in behalf of our brave soldier boys who have fought so gallantly and made such noble and heroic sacrifices in the cause of liberty. It is needless to recount their splendid spirit and achievements as we have all heard and read of them from time to time, and they have indeed crowned themselves with glory and upheld the honor of our country which we love so well, the grandest country on God's earth.

They recoiled not from the hardships of camp life, they feared not the dangers of battle, but remembered that they went forth under the Stars and Stripes, the flag most dear to their hearts and which gave them all.

When duty called they left home and fireside and went forth cheerfully, and the spirit of the American soldier and his deeds of valor have amazed and inspired the entire world.

Life in the army and navy entails hardships and sacrifice and we at home shall partake of the fruits of their labors have an opportunity to show our gratitude.

During the present week a campaign for United War Work is being conducted and we are asked to come forward and contribute generously towards this cause.

Those good men and women, God bless them, in charge of this work have labored untiringly and their zeal and enthusiasm have been most admirable.

They are working for our American boys and appeal to you for help in this splendid cause. It would be the height of ingratitude should this appeal be in vain, and nothing cuts to the heart like ingratitude. It is a dagger which pierces the very soul.

The armistice has been signed but the boys are not yet home and it may be a long time before many of them are home. They need the same material and spiritual comforts at present which they needed in the past, and it is our duty to see that they are given, and this to the utmost of our ability.

When they return let it not be said that we failed to do our part.

We have all duties to perform as the fallen monarch a job.

The telegram reads:

"Just received the following cable from 'somewhere in Holland.' 'Can you get your brother George to give me and my six sons some kind of light unskilled labor in his rope walk. Don't expect much wages at first.'

Signed) 'W. J. Hohenzollern.'

This fellow seems to be in a serious need of a job, if you can't place him, see Ed. Schmidt could use him on one of his ice wagons. I am so depressed over the plight of the Hohenzollerns that I am tempted to step out and drown dull care in sarsaparilla."

Fred C. Kelly has been connected with the Department of Justice since last June, having given his services voluntarily to that department as one of the "dollar a year" men who are assisting the government in various capacities.

SOLDIERS HOME IN TIME TO CELEBRATE

Jamestown felt quite proud of herself Monday, when four of the local boys came home on furloughs, just in time to help celebrate the signing of the armistice. Wilbur Thomas who enlisted in the navy about a year ago has been on a convoy ship and just got back from overseas, and is spending ten days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thomas. Ross Stoner also sailor in the U. S. Navy is home on a ten day furlough. Dallas Cooper, who is stationed at Hampton Roads, Virginia, is home and will spend the time in Jamestown as the guest of relatives and friends. Claud Glass who has been up at Camp Sherman for some time is home on a ten day furlough.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

THOUSANDS OF MEN FOR MERCHANT MARINE

Washington, Nov. 13—Orders to rush recruiting of men for the crews of merchant ships were sent today to agents of the Shipping Board in all parts of the country.

"We shall want thousands of men for our fleets," Chairman Hurley said. "Our recruiting service and training ships will keep right on preparing men for jobs on merchant ships. The service is training at present 4,000 apprentices a month and we are planning to increase its output and the Shipping Board will continue until further notice to accept men between 18 and 25 inclusive for training. We want to build up an all-American personnel for the great merchant marine."

Most Widely Read Farm Publications in the United States give the Facts on Startling Live Stock Development

"Passed by the Capital Issues Committee as not incompatible with the national interests, but without approval of legality, validity, worth or security. Opinion No. A-434."

"The Country Gentleman" is one of the most widely read farming publications in the United States. It is published by The Curtis Publishing Co., who also publish "The Saturday Evening Post" and "The Ladies' Home Journal," and no one doubts the reliability of this, the greatest publishing house in America.

In "The Country Gentleman" of October 19th, October 26th and November 2d there appeared articles under the head, "THE SOUTH AS THE COMING STOCK LAND OF AMERICA." The thoughtful reader will realize that a revolution has come in live stock production. Here are a few extracts from "The Country Gentleman":

The South "The South is fairly galloping into the meat business. It is running ahead of its pork production quota and passing all cattle expectations. As a result, when Europe subsides to peace and undertakes to satisfy that meat appetite with which mess call has branded millions of peasants, the South will bid against them for every mouthful of animal flesh. Indeed, the South expects to sell them meat, thus fulfilling its natural destiny to become the greatest cheap-meat region in the United States."

Nineteen "Those who want the calmest and most exacting sort of proof of this can find it in the fact that the South is being dotted with killing plants by the packers."

"There are nineteen killing plants in the South under Government inspection. On some of these hammers are still beating. None are old. That is what the packers think of the South."

"For a moment let's look at sandy, sunny Florida, with its abundance of water and its cheap lands. Despite the fact that the oldest city in the United States is located there, it is still part of the frontier, as regards opportunity. Indeed, George M. Rommel, chief of the Animal Husbandry Division of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, DECLARER NO OTHER STATE HAS SUCH CATTLE CHANCES."

It has always been a great cattle state and always will be. IT HAS MORE NATURAL ADVANTAGES THAN ANY OTHER STATE IN THE UNITED STATES. Florida has no screw worms, no ear ticks and no coyotes.

Natural "The South, which surprised the North and West last summer with its record-prize steers, also has hogs. A bunch of Northern swine breeders made this discovery only this year."

"They learned, for instance, that the South is a natural swine country which can produce pork very cheaply because it has the pasture, the feed and the right type of animals."

The Southern Ruralist, W. L. Glessner, Field Representative of Atlanta, Ga., Says Big Things Are Being Done

"While visiting the Florida State Fair at Jacksonville I was struck by the sign over Clay County's exhibit: 'Where big things are being done by big men in a big way with big results.' for I had few days before I seen some of the big things being done in that county."

"I was impressed with the Walkill Farm as being the most practical demonstration of the possibilities of the live stock industry in the South that I have seen. There is nothing fancy or fussy about this farm — everything is plain and practical, business-like. It shows not only what can be done with wealth, but it contains many lessons of what can be done with small means, for everything is utilized."

"And as the finished demonstration became a visible entity men wondered that so much could have been performed in such a short period. For the essential thing has been accomplished. The way had been made clear for all and sundry to follow. 'Can do' had become 'It is done.'

The Farm and Live Stock Record, Jacksonville, Fla., Recognizes Epoch-Making Operations

"On November 5, 1916, Walkill was practically 14,000 acres of wild land. Beginning on that day were the first of the epoch-making operations which are making Dollings and Walkill a popular topic for conversation in the state of Florida."

"Had I not been told better, I should have thought there must have been at least three or four years of activity responsible for the improvements which were visible."

"Here, a little more than a year after the commencement of things, there were more than a thousand head of cattle grazing on the Walkill pastures."

"Hundreds of sleek hogs were visible in the fields."

"Substantial buildings and silos, such as one ordinarily associates with several years of successful farming, reared their outlines against the sky everywhere."

Taken from The Florida Grower, Tampa, Fla.

"Yes, Dollings hires brains. But not for and with money alone. He fully appreciates the importance of the personal equation and so well understands that men's best work is done only when their heart interest is enlisted. So he ties men to him and to his enterprises with bonds that endure because they are founded on mutual respect, harmony of interest and fairness of participation alike in opportunity to serve and assurance of profit."

"'Can do.' Unconsciously using the spirit of the favorite expression of my old Chinese friend, Colonel Dollings some years ago indicated to his intimates that he had decided to undertake the solution of the problem of increasing meat production at lower costs than then prevailed."

"Those who were in his confidence know that this determination in no sense was based on snap judgment. On the contrary, it was the result of most careful study and of thorough investigation. Colonel Dollings had secured the opinions of many experts, had checked and counter-checked these, and retained as the foundation of his effort those in which he had found absolute agreement."

Success "Then he began to do things. Not with a blare of trumpets nor an outbreak of publicity, but silently and swiftly. As a matter of fact, his indifference to newspaper notoriety has been the despair of more than one reporter who saw in Colonel Dollings' activities 'copy' of a most excellent character."

"A proposition of such vast importance and great magnitude as this latest undertaking of Colonel Dollings isn't handled in an hour. But never was there a moment's time lost. The preliminary progress may have seemed slow to casual observers, but those 'in the know' saw that it was surprisingly swift."

"And as the finished demonstration became a visible entity men wondered that so much could have been performed in such a short period. For the essential thing has been accomplished. The way had been made clear for all and sundry to follow. 'Can do' had become 'It is done.'

Final Offering of the Walkill Stock Farm 7% Full Participating Preferred Stock

The full Participating feature of The Walkill Stock Farm Preferred Stock gives the holder the opportunity to share in the profits of this remarkable development. Provision is made that after 7% is paid on the Preferred Stock and 7% on the Common Stock, then excess dividends shall be divided equally between the Preferred and Common stockholders. An earning of only $3.00 per acre will pay both the Preferred and Common stock dividends. With the advantages of a long pasture season, heavy forage crops, plenty of labor and ideal market conditions, we feel sure that the profits will far exceed $3.00 per acre.

The management of the Walkill Farm will appeal to Ohio investors. H. B. Minium, one of the Executives, was for nineteen years with Armour & Co., and for eleven years the Manager of all the Armour interests in Florida. J. L. Young, of Circleville, Ohio, one of the most successful farmers in that prosperous county, has charge of the crop production. Sol Miller, of Columbus, Ohio, and known to Duroc Hog Breeders throughout the country, has charge of the Hog Department. Fred Brown, of Circleville, Ohio, has charge of the Sheep Department.

The Walkill Farm consists of 14,000 acres, crossed by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, with two Shipping Stations on the Farm, and these Shipping Stations are only thirty miles from the big Armour Packing Plant at Jacksonville, Fla. There are over eighty miles of Hog-Tight Wire Fence on the Farm.

THIS IS THE FINAL OFFERING—Three-fourths of the Preferred Stock issued has been absorbed by Ohio farmers and business men. It is a safe investment because it is backed by Land, Cattle, Hogs and Sheep. It is a profitable investment because it carries a stipulated dividend easily earned and provides for a further share of the profits. This final announcement will result in the rapid sale of the remainder of the Preferred Stock. If you are interested, do not delay in communicating with us.

Feeling of Bitterness Against the Former Kaiser Grows In Germany

EMPEROR KARL FOLLOWS LEAD OF KAISER BILL

Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—Emperor Karl of Austria-Hungary in announcing his abdication, issued the following proclamation:

" Fired with unalterable love for my people, I will not hinder their freedom."

"I acknowledge German Austria's decision to become a separate state."

"I relinquish all participation in the running of state affairs."

"May my people harmoniously adjust themselves to the new conditions."

REPUBLICS ARE PROCLAIMED AT BERLIN AND VIENNA

London, Nov. 13.—The workmen and soldiers still have complete control of the North Sea and Heligoland, according to Amsterdam reports.

Dispatches from Zurich announced that republics had been proclaimed both in Berlin and Vienna.

The following delayed dispatch was sent out by the Berlin wireless:

"The workmen and soldiers announce that the kaiser, kaisersin and crown prince have arrived at Maastricht, where they are awaiting decision of the Dutch government regarding their admission into Holland."

"It is untrue that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is included in the party. He is at general headquarters and is in support of the agreement we submit. Crown Prince Ruprecht, likewise, is remaining at his post."

KING ALBERT TO RE-ENTER BRUSSELS

Berlin, Nov. 13.—The body of Frederick William, former German crown prince, has been found, covered with bayonet and bullet wounds on a military train bound for the Dutch frontier, it was reported here today.

Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—The Wolff Bureau, official German news agency, announced today that the former crown prince is with his troops at the front.

A great ceremony has been planned to be held in the Cathedral.

Burgomaster Max, recently released after a long imprisonment in Germany, will be one of the principals in the ceremony.

OCEAN PASSENGER TRAFFIC WILL BE OPEN NEXT SUMMER

New York, Nov. 13.—Ocean passenger traffic to Europe will be resumed by early summer, New York steamship agents declared here today.

The need of the European population for food, raw materials for industry and reconstruction will absorb all tonnage for some time, it was stated. There is no immediate prospect of the government control of shipping being removed. Although some tourist traffic may be underway in several months, an official of a large American line stated that there was no chance of it assuming pre-war proportions. He said it was not merely a question of providing steamship accommodations at this end, but return journeys would have to be considered as all accommodations from the other side would be needed for troops.

CANADIAN CASUALTIES REACH TOTAL 211,328

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 13—Canada's casualties in the war, up to 11 days before the capture of Mons, on the final morning of the conflict, totaled 211,338 men, it was announced here today.

These are announced as follows:

Killed in action: 34,877; died of wounds or disease, 15,457; wounded, 152,779; presumed dead, missing in action and known prisoners of war, 8,245.

HIGH PRICES TO CONTINUE 4 YEARS

Chicago, Nov. 13.—At least four years more of high prices is J. Ogden Armour's prophecy, following the advent of peace.

The Chicago packer today was quoted as saying: "I do not think provisions will go any higher, but at the same time they are not likely to decline much for some time to come. There will be a big trade for the next four years. It looks to me as though prices for grains will not recede rapidly."

YANKS' DEEDS PRAISED

London, Nov. 13.—In praising the work of the American expeditionary force, in an editorial to-day, the Morning Post says:

"Of the gallant and decisive deeds on the western front not the least conspicuous appears to have been the achievements of the American army in the critical Meuse sector. At any other moment those achievements would have been certain of deserved deliberation."

"The American troops, only newly trained, inheriting no long military tradition, and molded by no iron-bound system, have faced and have overcome the pick of the German legions. The cost was heavy, but the result was amazing."

"In this country we have never doubted as to how the American soldier would prove himself in the field, but it is too much to say that the most confident expectations have been surpassed. The rapidity and thoroughness with which General Pershing's men adapted themselves to the highly specialized conditions of modern warfare have been a revelation. Indeed, in their own phrase they made good and lost no time about it."

"When the story is written of the last fatal days of the war it will be recognized that the part played by the men from the United States has been neither the least honorable nor the least glorious."

FATE OF CROWN PRINCE IS STILL SHADOWED IN DOUBT

Berlin, Nov. 13.—The body of Frederick William, former German crown prince, has been found, covered with bayonet and bullet wounds on a military train bound for the Dutch frontier, it was reported here today.

Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—The Wolff Bureau, official German news agency, announced today that the former crown prince is with his troops at the front.

The Hague, Nov. 13.—Reports persisted today that the former crown prince was shot dead in Belgium when he tried to cross the frontier. His brother, Prince Adelbert, who was with him, is said to have escaped.

Paris, Nov. 13.—(1:30 P. M.)—The former crown prince arrived in Maastricht at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to a despatch from Rotterdam today.

ARMISTICE TERMS CHANGED AND ARE MADE MORE DRASIC

Washington, Nov. 13.—The work of assembling German naval vessels in port to be designated by the allies will start soon. As finally amended, the armistice requires Germany to surrender all of her submarines, including the big submarine cruisers and mine layers. It is understood that this will mean that Germany gives up about 200 U-boats instead of 160 as required in the original form.

The amended armistice made public at the state department last night changed the details of the time and numbers but did not alter the general broad principles. It is shown that 150,000 instead of 50,000 men must be surrendered in evacuated territory: the Germans must give up 25,000 instead of 30,000 machine guns.

Other conditions are altered slightly and some allowances made for the re-timing of Germany in connection with the allies commanding of railroads.

HIGH PRICES TO CONTINUE 4 YEARS

Chicago, Nov. 13.—At least four years more of high prices is J. Ogden Armour's prophecy, following the advent of peace.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR THE PEACE PARLEY

By ROBERT J. BENDER.

Washington, Nov. 13.—President Wilson and allied diplomats are exchanging views on the time, location and details of the forthcoming peace conference. Appeal of Germany for an early conference on peace terms that she may be aided in stabilizing her new government and fearing the possibility of wild revolution when the soldiers return, form the first important national situation today.

The president held that order must be restored in the central powers before there can be a peace conference.

Hence officials here believe it will be two or three months at least before the conclave can be held—probably longer.

Meantime, however, the blockade article in the armistice terms has been amended to include necessary provisioning of Germany during the armistice. In reply Dr. Sol's appeal for mitigating the armistice terms, it is likely President Wilson will shortly assure the German government that a helping hand will be extended constantly in assisting Germany to help herself.

One of the significant factors in the present situation is the decision not to force the Germans out of Russia immediately.

DEMOLIBILIZE ARMY AS FAST AS INDUSTRY CAN ABSORB THEM

Washington, Nov. 13.—Demobilization of men in the military and naval services of the United States, after their return from France, will be carried out largely on a basis of the ability of the trades and occupations to absorb them, under a plan being worked out by the Labor, War and Navy Departments and the War Industries Board.

It was said today that the plan will be submitted to President Wilson in a few days.

CAN NOT WAVE RED FLAG IN THE U. S.

New York, Nov. 13.—Several socialists were injured when soldiers, sailors, reinforced by civilians, protest against parading with the red flag.

The Mooney defense league was marching to Carnegie Hall, where they had a meeting in behalf of Tom Mooney, the California labor leader, now under sentence of death for alleged participation in the San Francisco preparedness parade bomb plot.

J. Edward Morgan of San Francisco, who has made several tours of the country in the interest of Mooney, was knocked senseless in the near riot which resulted when the boys in Khaki and blue stripped the banners from the marchers and tore down the red flag.

RUMANIA DECLARES WAR ON GERMANY

Zurich, Nov. 13.—Rumania has declared war on Germany, according to a Bucharest despatch to the Frankfurter Gazette.

A dispatch from Jassy said the Rumanian government issued an ultimatum to Germany Saturday, giving the German army 24 hours to get out of the country. The time limit expired at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

MANN AND GILLETTE, G. O. P. LEADERS, MENTIONED FOR HOUSE SPEAKERSHIP

James R. Mann (left) and Frederick Gillette.

James R. Mann of Illinois and Frederick Gillette of Massachusetts are the two Republican congressmen most prominently mentioned to succeed Champ Clark as speaker of the lower house. Mann probably would get the place without a contest were it not for ill health, which has kept him from his duties the most of the time during the past year or two. Gillette is at present the acting minority leader of the house in the absence of Representatives.

NEEDS OF BOYS 'OVER THERE' IS NOW INCREASED

The United War Work campaign in Greene county is progressing very satisfactorily in nearly every town in the county and one or two of the townships are expected to report "over the top" in a few hours. The campaign in the country districts is going unusually well this time but thus far the campaign in Xenia city is dragging. Owing to the difficulty of getting people together in public meetings the Xenia people have not been entirely awakened to the demand that is made upon them. The city of Xenia must raise $12,500 in this campaign in order to hold up its end of the load. Will she do it? The committee feels sure she will.

According to John R. Mott the need for money to finance the work of the seven allied organizations interested in this campaign is greater than it was during the days when the men were engaged in active fighting. A gigantic task faces the seven organizations working at the front. It is necessary to guard against mental, moral and physical slackness and deterioration in the American army and navy. It must be remembered that the men in both the army and navy will have much more time on their hands now than before and the effort of the Y. M. C. A., K. of C., and allied organizations will have to redouble their efforts to keep them comfortable and satisfied.

John W. Prugh, chairman of the Greene county committee received the following telegram today from F. W. Ramsey, campaign director for Ohio, laying stress on the need for redoubled effort:

"John W. Prugh,
Xenia, Ohio.

"It becomes increasingly apparent that every dollar we can raise will be needed in these next months if we are to adequately serve our men overseas, whose needs as a result of new conditions will multiply beyond anything we have hitherto dreamed of. The 7 organizations are the willing hands stretched out to help our men in the time of their greatest peril and need. We must keep these helping hands strong to serve. Conditions overseas make it definitely sure that our boys will be a long time coming home. It will require millions of men and many months of time to restore order and establish a safe government. In the labor of reconstruction and guard duty scattered over vast areas the boys will need us desperately. Pass the word on to all your workers. We have stood by the boys when they were fighting, we will not fail them now after the fighting is over. Their need of the helpful ministry of these organizations will increase daily from now on. We cannot allow the period of demobilization to become a period of demoralization. Let's not stop.

"F. W. RAMSEY,
Campaign director for Ohio Division
United War Work Campaign."

VICTORY DAY TO BE PROCLAIMED AS A HOLIDAY

Washington, Nov. 13.—A joint resolution, declaring November 11 a national holiday, to be designated as "Victory Day," was introduced in the house today, by Rep. Hicks of New York, a member of the house naval affairs committee.

A resolution making November 11 a holiday in commemoration of the ending of the war, has been introduced in the French chamber of deputies.

A Paris received today.

GERMANS HOLD CELEBRATION

BY WEBB MILLER

With the American Armies in France, Nov. 12—(Night)—Huge fires were visible tonight in the direction of Conflans, behind the German lines.

At some places the Germans remained facing the Americans, waving their hands toward our lines and strolling in the open fields without guns.

The second army reports "heavy shouting and cheering from the enemy lines all night, and flares and rockets."

The approximate enemy line, as given to American officers, shows our troops advanced considerably during the last hours before the armistice.

The huge fires behind the German lines are accepted as being bonfires in celebration of the armistice, rather than the destruction of materials.

GERMAN FACTIONS WANT TO METE OUT JUSTICE TO WILHELM

Washington, Nov. 13—German factions may demand extradition of the German Kaiser and his trial before a socialist court at Berlin, diplomatic cables received here today suggested.

Feeling against Wilhelm is declared to be increasing in Berlin and throughout Prussia. Strong Bavarian factions are demanding punishment of the deposed monarch and the Krupp interests. Prussian junkers and militarists and all others within the German empire, responsible for the war, advise say.

The Poste of Munich refers to the high feeling throughout Bavaria against those who deliberately planned the world conflict, particularly Ludendorff, the Krupps and Wilhelm.

London, Nov. 13—The whole question of the former Kaiser's possible extradition will probably be discussed at the peace conference which is likely to be held in Versailles before the end of the year.

A United Press dispatch from Amsterdam today said that Wilhelm arrived Monday afternoon in Maarsen on a special train, to take up his residence at Count Von Bentinck's castle.

The conditions on which the Dutch government will permit him to stay in Holland cannot be published out of courtesy, the dispatch said, but they are equal to simple military internment. The former Kaiser is not on parole but is under moral obligation to remain in Holland and not do anything contrary to public order or that will be likely to embarrass Holland with her neighbors, or the other powers.

Wilhelm, who the United Press correspondent saw alighting from a special train at Maarsen and entering an automobile, was very pale and appeared to be nervous and tired. He was dressed in civilian clothes as a result of a request from the military authorities. He was accompanied by his favorite Daschund.

London, Nov. 13—Joint action by Premier Lloyd-George and members of parliament.

"It is our business to determine the Dutch surrender of the former Kaiser into our keeping," said the Foreign Minister. "Wilhelm and his tribe must be brought to judgment, or at least held for safe keeping."

Commenting on the armistice, London newspapers agree in the modest expression that it is "a victory for God."

They refrain from boasting and point out that while the armistice undoubtedly is severe, Germany, through lies and atrocities, has made her own bed and declare that the must lie in it.

The aid given by the United States is particularly emphasized in expressions of gratitude.

Regarding Foreign Secretary Solf's appeal to President Wilson to "aid starving Germany," it is pointed out that the armistice provides the allies shall feed Germany.

"Bleeding and impoverished and brought to the verge of ruin, the allies stand at last victorious with the United States beside them," the Chronicle said. "The liberties of the world are saved."

GIVEN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS MORE TIME

London, Nov. 13—(2:30 P. M.)—A wireless dispatch from Paris today announced the allied high command has informed the German high command that a supplementary 24 hours have been added to the time for evacuation of Belgium, Luxembourg and Alsace-Lorraine.

A copy of the resolution was sent

ROMANCE BEGUN IN RUSSIA IS TO END IN MARRIAGE

A romance which began in war-torn Russia last summer, reached its height in a Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. exhibit boat on the Volga river, will culminate in the marriage of Miss Katherine Childs, former secretary of the Greene county, Y. W. C. A., to Bryant Ryall, an Ohioan engaged in Y. M. C. A. work.

Miss Childs has written to Xenia friends that she expects to be married in the spring, to return to the states with her husband for a year; that they will then go back to Russia, where Mr. Ryall will be engaged permanently in Y. M. C. A. work.

The party of which Mr. Ryall and Miss Childs are members was at Stockholm when a card which was received today by a Xenia friend from Miss Childs, was mailed. She said that they expected to go from there to Archangel, a Siberian Arctic seaport to spend a few weeks, and then return to Russia.

Miss Childs met her fiance in Moscow last summer. They were in the same party of Y. M. and Y. W. workers which had charge of an exhibit boat which made trips up and down the Volga. Miss Childs had charge of the domestic science exhibit on the boat.

Mr. Ryall is a former Ohio Y. M. C. A. worker, but never met his future bride until they became associated in their work in Moscow.

A telegram has been received by Mrs. Gertrude Shaw, of West Second street, from her brother, Jesse Huston, of Miami, announcing the sad news of the death of his eight month old son, Lawrence Robert. He leaves his parents and one brother, two years old. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Although the armistice has been signed and the war is over we must still "Carry On." Since there are no battles to fight the soldiers think more of home. A very clever duplicate of his home "over there" may be seen in Beatty's window. The window consists of a Y. M. C. A. dugout in the trenches with straw covered ground all around and inside the hut.

A miniature aeroplane has attracted much attention in the Criterion window for the past two days. This aeroplane was built by a local Xenia man, Jesse Anderson. It has a motor and is propelled by batteries and is swung on wires from the ceiling of the window. A miniature doll dressed as an aviator is seated at the pilot seat holding a flag. The inscription in the window reads "This Baby Helped Win the War."

Lieutenant Kelly has been engaged in doing ferry duty for the aviation, flying battle planes across the channel from England to France, and he drives every type of air machine made. He has acquired great speed as an aviator.

WELL, WELL, BIG LETTERS FOOLED YOU

The third week of the Missing Word contest starts with hundreds of answers to the first two weeks. Some were right, and others were wrong. If you made an error do not become disengaged, you will have plenty of company before the contest ends. We are sure there will be very few who will get them all right. A wrong word in your answer should not scare you off. You may find the right word one week when every other person misses it.

We must again warn our readers to be more careful. The word seemed so easy the first week some were careless in copying them on the coupon and did not write the word they intended.

We may take a word out of a new or take it out of one that was in store and we might take the word of the same advertisement two weeks in succession. In fact it is hard to tell what we may do—but the contest will always be fair. The sentence must always make good English with the word in and not read correctly with it out.

Just be careful. You may have made a mistake last week. You have more weeks.

The word left out last week was "orrence," and was omitted from The Dowell and Torrence Lumber Co.'s advertisement. By looking at the advertisement the omission will be seen quite plainly.

Don't pass over the big letters—they might fool you, as last week's missing word did.

Now, for this week. In the contest we have omitted a word beginning with N and ending with D. Now do not expect to find the word by just a hurried reading of the advertisements. Remember, there are hundreds in this contest. A number of them have missed the right word one of the two weeks before. We must make the test difficult enough to cause you to read carefully and hunt, but it will fair to all. The word is missing, the sentence does not make good English without it. Now find it.

This should not be particularly hard. The advertiser would certainly be gunning for us if we had left the word out unintentionally. This is the time of year to hunt. Now hunt.

We were surprised to find many more answers in this week than last week, let's see what happens this week!

BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Rush the Kidneys at once when Backache or Bladder bothers — Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by rushing the kidneys, occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat contains uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or drain only part of the waste and poison from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and our kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

What shall he carry to Your Boy tonight—out there in No-Man's Land?

OUT in the open, across the border of No-Man's Land, the Soldiers of Cheer are going tonight. In their packs they are carrying the comforts which your fighter wants. In their hearts they are carrying a message of cheer and hope.

To the most advanced positions they are crawling with those little things which loom up big in France—their bars of chocolate, their cigarettes, their rolls of cookies and cans of fruit. Yes, and sometimes, letters from home!

Under the very eyes of German snipers they are crossing open fields, dropping flat to the ground as each flare goes up, then creeping further forward.

Soon they will reach the gun-nests where a handful of fighters will whisper:—"Good for you, old boy! What would we do without you?"

Off in another sector an advance will begin at dawn. In the thick of it will be these men—perhaps of the Knights of Columbus or Y. M. C. A., perhaps the Jewish Welfare Board or Salvation Army.

Whatever uniform they wear, the hot chocolate which they serve tastes just as warm and comforting. The cigarettes they light and hand the wounded will be as good first aid.

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before!

The need is for a sum 70% greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,500,000.

By giving to these seven organizations all at once, the cost and effort of six additional campaigns is saved.

Unless Americans do give twice as much as ever before, our soldiers and sailors may not enjoy during 1919 their:

3600 Recreation Buildings	2500 Libraries supplying 5,000,000 books
1000 Miles of Movie Film	85 Hostess Houses
100 Leading Stage Stars	15,000 Big-brother "secretaries"
2000 Athletic Directors	Millions of dollars of home comforts

When you give double, you make sure that every fighter has the cheer and comforts of these seven organizations every step of the way from home to the front and back again. You provide him with a church, a theatre, a cheerful home, a store, a school, a club and an athletic field—and a knowledge that the folks back home are with him, heart and soul.

You have loaned your money to supply their physical needs.

Now give to maintain the Morale that is winning the war!

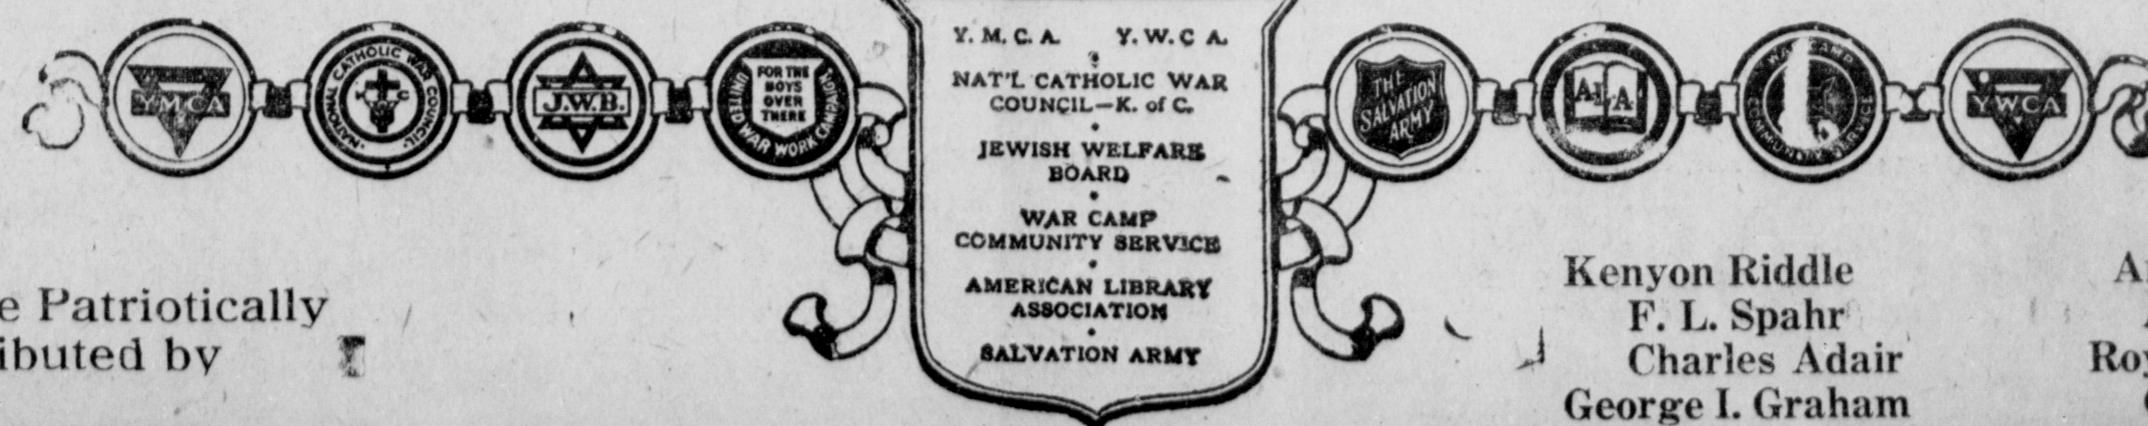

Throughout the days they serve the crowd a mile or so behind the lines. At night they go forward, packs on their backs, to reach the men who occupy the outposts of civilization.

When the order comes to go over the top, they follow too. Wherever the troops go, there go these men who serve.

No wonder their names are in the casualty lists. No wonder they are cited. No wonder the fighters elect them honorary members of their outfits.

Keep the supplies coming! Help the Soldiers of Cheer to help your fighters! Give now—all together!

THE WAR IS OVER—WHAT SHALL THE HARVEST BE?

The great war is over. Killing and wounding has ceased, but the burden of squaring the terms of peace with right and justice and practical operation is as great in its way as that of carrying on the war.

The terms to be imposed by the allies will require statesmanship of the highest order. There are great objects to be achieved and important rules to be carried into effect in reaching conclusions.

Take for instance, the question of Alsace-Lorraine. There has been almost universal demand that they should be restored to France, but this point is said to be indefinite in the armistice terms.

Consider some of the difficulties of the Coming Peace Congress. Take Russia. A large part of great Russia is under the Soviets and the Bolsheviks, who have been massacring innocent persons by the thousands.

The Allies will have to send many more troops there, to keep the peace before a stable government will be established. But with Germany out, the prospect is favorable. When we look back to the time right after Germany gobbled Russia, how infinitely the changed conditions for the better. There are innumerable questions to settle. The returning German armies, feeling the chagrin of defeat may become unmanageable. And the civilians too may feel sour. Already we read of riots and outbreaks of social disturbances in the shattered empire. One of the duties that may devolve upon our boys and the soldiers of the other Allies may be to patrol and enforce order, where needed. We cannot leave a big job like this only half accomplished. But the larger part being well done, we will not fail in the balance.

It seems more than likely that some strong force will have to step in and as police force take the place of the old imperial power that formerly held the German empire together, until the various fragments can get their new governments and their economic life into working order. This would seem to be the natural task of the Allied armies. If the matter is wisely handled, they should be able to march in everywhere as friends to co-operate with the natives, until the latter are able to manage things for themselves.

President Wilson in his speech giving the Armistice Peace terms to congress, concluded with some pertinent suggestions as to conditions in Europe. He said:

"The present and all that it holds belongs to the nations and the peoples who preserve their self-control and the orderly process of their Governments; the future to those who prove themselves the true friends of mankind. To conquer with arms is to make only a temporary conquest; to conquer the world by earning its esteem is to make permanent conquest. I am confident that the nations that have learned the discipline of freedom and that have settled with self-possession to its ordered practice, are now about to make conquest of the world by the sheer power of example and of friendly helpfulness."

The people who have just come out from under the yoke of arbitrary Government and who are now coming at last into their freedom will never find the treasures of liberty they are in search of if they look for them by the light of the torch.

They will find that every pathway that is stained with the blood of their own brothers leads to the wilderness, not to the seat of their hope. They are now face to face with their initial test. We must hold the light steady until they find themselves. And in the meantime, if it be possible, we must establish a peace that will justly define their place among the nations, remove all fear of their neighbors and of their former masters, and enable them to live in security and contentment when they have set their own affairs in order. I, for one, do not doubt their purpose or their capacity.

There are some happy signs that they know, and will choose the way of self-control and peaceful accomplishment. If they do, we shall put our aid at their disposal in every way that we can. If they do not, we must await with patience and sympathy the awakening and recovery that will assuredly come at last."

FLING OUT THE FLAG!*CONDITION OF MRS. MARY CLARK CRITICAL

Fling out the flag! We have been too calm and too reserved too long! So let yourself go and let the flag go, too. In all its history it has never been displayed for a more glorious cause, and it was never unfurled for a peace of such magnitude, registering the triumph over forces more excessive, in all the long story of civilization!

Inured for four years to cataclysmic events on the battlefield, we have of late taken almost too much for granted. The armistice with Austria, as tremendous as it was and forecasting the final overthrow of the abhorrent forces of evil, was almost assumed to be just the victory of the superb Italians. And while we rejoiced with them in their supreme achievement, the outward evidences of what it meant to us were almost wanting.

So fling out the flags now! It is a great tribute to American self-discipline that we have gone into the thing to settle it over there and have not been boastful about it. But now that is all over. We said we would come back until it was "over over there," and we have made our word as good as our bond.

So fling out the flag! It has never looked so beautiful, its stripes have never been so full of meaning nor its stars more resplendent. So fling it out, large and small, for this is its day and our day. And none there be the world over who are not doing it reverently!

Avoid the Quarrelsome.

If there is a quarrelsome person in your neighborhood don't fool with him. He is sure to involve you in some of his quarrels if you are not careful.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

INFLUENZA, COLD
PNEUMONIA,
SORE THROAT

Yields Quickly to Anti-septic Oil Treatment.

Many are finding relief from influenza, colds, sore throat and perhaps preventing pneumonia, it is said, by the use of Miller's Antiseptic Oil (known as Snake Oil). Its great penetrating, pain-relieving qualities insure almost instant relief when applied freely on the chest or throat, well greased when first symptoms arise. The oil penetrates through to the affected parts and tends to open up the air passages, making breathing more easy and relieve the pains. And for those tough few drops of little sugar usually brings prompt relief. Don't fail to have a bottle on hand when the attack comes on, and if used according to directions results are assured, or your money refunded. On sale by Sohn's Drug Store, Xenia, O. 30c, 60c and $1.00 bottles. adv.

CRUEL FATE TEARS 14 YEAR OLD BRIDE FROM HUBBY'S ARMS

Cruel fate intervened to tear the bride from her bridegroom, when Noah Dever, the unrelenting father of 14 year old Mildred Dever Rayburn, brought suit in common pleas court Wednesday morning to annul her marriage to 16 year old Errol Rayburn, her husband of a day.

Dragged from the arms of her boy bridegroom, the little girl wife weeps alone and desolate at the home of her parents on the Bickett road, while the heartbroken husband remains with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rayburn on Home avenue.

Errol and Mildred went all alone, by themselves, to Covington, Ky., Monday, while everybody in Xenia was celebrating the peace news, and they thought they wouldn't be missed, and they got a marriage license and somebody who hadn't any scruples about babies getting married, performed the ceremony.

Then of course, like all the other elopers, they sent a telegram home. "Married. Coming home right away. Mildred and Errol." That was enough. An irate parent of each waited at the railroad station, and when the elopers stepped off the train, what each got right then and there, should have been enough for naughty children playing at marriage.

In the suit to annul the ceremony, which was brought by Noah Dever as the father and next friend of the child wife, Errol Rayburn and his father, Glen Rayburn, are made defendants. The petition says that the couple has not lived together, but that the defendant and his father are seeking to take the girl away from the home of her parents. He wants the marriage declared void, and the defendant's enjoined from interfering with his possession of his daughter. F. L. Johnson is his attorney.

"BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN"

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for woman's ailments I ever saw,"—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering as she was should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. ## BANDIT HOLDS UP EIGHT DIRECTORS

Cincinnati, Nov. 13.—A masked bandit, with revolver in each hand, held up eight Directors of the Atlantic Building Association Company, 1232 Richmond street, at 8:45 o'clock last night, and, with a confederate, who acted as lookout, escaped with $152 in currency and a handful of bank checks, the exact amount of which the Directors were unable to ascertain.

The Directors had finished their evening's business and were about to depart when the bandit entered. He pointed his weapons at Sidney Pandora, Treasurer, who had the cash in his pocket; President John Gigas and Secretary Wm. Fahrenbruck.

"Come on, I mean business; no foolishness," ordered the robber.

The Directors, having in mind the fate of two Directors of the Ninth Ward Building Association, Covington, Ky., who were shot and killed during a raid by bandits last February, offered no resistance.

Pandora handed over the cash and checks. No attempt was made to distract other amounts in a safe. The bandit backed out of the door. Two women saw another man, evidently a lookout, rejoin him, and both disappeared in a lumber yard near the Eighth-street viaduct.

Police last night were scouring the West End for trace of the robbers.

POLICING OF SEAS AMERICA'S JOB

Washington, November 13.—An important part in the proposed after-the-war international policing of the seas is expected to fall to the American navy. For that reason, it was learned Monday, there is no prospect of any reduction in the present naval strength, and the Administration instead plans to press urgently for the passage of the additional three year building program, recently laid before Congress by Secretary Daniels.

The cessation of hostilities in Europe, it is believed, will permit concentration of energy on speeding up the capital ships program.

Because the country has been less hard hit by the war than the great European Powers, it may assume a disproportionate share of the sea police work for a time at least.

As to disarmament possibilities, included in the new world program to be worked out, it was pointed out that President Wilson had thus far proposed reduction of armaments only to a point consistent with domestic security.

In view of the present uncertain situation of the world no one sees to foretell just what naval force must be maintained.

"THE WIFE"

By JANE PHELPS

BRIAN TALKS OF HIS HOPES AND DISAPPOINTMENTS TO MOLLIE CHAPTER LXXXVII.

Things did not work out entirely to Mrs. Clayborne's satisfaction. This was principally due to the fact that Ruth did not lend herself in any way to the schemes her aunt had planned. Of course Mrs. Claybourne had said nothing of them; she was far too shrewd to make a faux pas of that kind. But whenever possible she advocated accepting Mandel's invitations, and was tactfully effusive when speaking of him to Ruth.

But Ruth was in love with Brian. Her work done, she was far happier with him than to be at the opera or anywhere else with others. So she managed to evade most of the things Mandel proposed, and to do it in such a way he could but accede.

Brian had tried his best to be natural before Ruth's aunt; but always there was a little constraint in their intercourse, a forced pleasantry, that was obvious to both of them—and to Ruth.

"Don't act afraid of Auntie!" she said to Brian one day, "She won't eat you."

"I'm not afraid of her, but somehow I feel all the time that she blames me for your going to work; that she disapproves of me as a husband for her niece," putting his feelings into words for the first time in many weeks.

"Nonsense! I don't deny Aunt Louisa felt so at first. You remember her letters. But she's all over it, now that she sees what my work is, how happy I am in doing it; how cozy we are, and how nicely we are getting along. Then too, dear, Auntie knows that I love you, that we are happy together. I think she never quite knew how much I cared, before." Ruth blushed as she confessed her love for her husband. She was naturally diffident where her affections were concerned, and not often did she say as much.

"Just the same she doesn't like me. It would have pleased her better if you had married a man like Mandel. She's gone daffy about him, by the way she talks."

"It isn't that, Brian," Ruth patiently explained. "It is because he is so kind to me—makes my work so pleasant. Aunt had an idea that all employers were regular slave-drivers. And that employees were terribly overworked and so miserable. She's found out she was wrong. I am so happy that she has, and that when she goes home she will feel differently about us and about my working."

"Then, I wish while she is here you would come over to the shop with her. It seems strange that you never have met my boss," she finished with a smile.

"I don't know why I should meet him! He'd most likely patronize me—or try to."

"Oh, no he wouldn't, Brian. He isn't that kind. Really he isn't, dear," as she saw disbelief on Brian's face.

"Then I want to show you my desk. The nice, quiet corner where I can keep to myself."

"Perhaps—some day I'll drop in," he returned, and Ruth had to be contented. He would make no further concession.

It had been two weeks since Mrs. Clayborne arrived, and she was beginning to talk of going home. While she had not been able to do as she wished about throwing Ruth with Mandel, she was not at all disheartened.

"Time, fate, and propinquity have been known to accomplish wonders," she said to herself. "They are much together, he loves her. He'll not give up easily."

Unfortunately, on the very day that Mrs. Clayborne left for home, Ruth was once more sent out of town on a commission. Brian at once flew to Mollie King for sympathy.

"I've had to be on my good behavior all the time Mrs. Clayborne was with us, then just as I might be comfortable again, off Ruth goes and leaves me alone with Rachel. It isn't fair to a fellow!" he stormed.

"Of course it isn't! Is Ruth going to stay long this time?"

"How do I know two days or two weeks? It's all one to her, so long as she is puttering over that decorating business! I tell you, Mollie, it has got to stop! I want a home, my wife's society when I go home, and I might as well say it—I want children like other men. Honest, Mollie, I don't care a rap for fancy things, for all the fuss about eating and the house. I just want to be comfortable and feel well—like I do with you. And I don't! I can't eat when I think that Ruth is working, that she is away. These decorations and working for that firm mean more to her than I do! I suppose I shouldn't have asked her to marry me until I had gone further in my profession. At least until I had made more money! But I did and that part can't be helped. But I'd rather have a little three room flat down here in the village, with Ruth fussing up messes in a kitchenette like yours, and a kiddie running to meet me than to live as we do." He laughed a little, then said, "There, I feel better! I've got that out of my system. Now come on, we'll go out to dinner."

It costs us 24 billion to keep him equipped and only 170 million to keep him smiling. Let's do it.

That evening Mollie was more gentle, more sympathetic, than ever before. Brian's talk of a home and kiddies had affected her more than he perhaps had either realized or intended.

Fine Mental Exercise.

The finest mental exercise we can think of is the practice of doing that which you dislike to do. If you will switch from kicking yourself every day into doing certain things that you must do, to going at them with a relish and a vim, you will be surprised at the difference it will make in your disposition.

DRUMMER DOING HIS BIT

"I am a traveling salesman and we met others who, like myself, were suffering from indigestion, stomach trouble and gastritis. Since taking 3 weekly doses of May's Wonderful Remedy I am very much pleased with its results, so much so that I have induced others to take it and they too were marvelously helped." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince you of its efficacy.

High School Notes

Central High School pupils were very fortunate Tuesday morning in having Mr. James Jeffries, who calls himself "the man in overalls," give an address on the Reconstruction of Morals. He has been delivering lectures all over the country for 11 years to raise the morale of the laboring man. Our soldiers are in fine physical condition. They are given plain food, plenty of exercise and rest.

He said "we have defeated the foe in Europe and the foe of the business world here."

Mr. Jeffries is an anti-cigarette man and pointed out the harm of smoking to a young man. Smoking was the cause of so many deaths in the cantonments in this epidemic.

Smoking weakens the lungs and leads to booze and dope. The coming young men and women must be physically, mentally and morally fit to meet the changing conditions and measure up to the standard of our soldiers when they return, for they say the morale of the soldiers overseas is far better than of the people in this country.

He gave a demonstration of exercise to develop the throat and neck and some of the exercise used at Battleground Sanitarium. He challenged any one to kick higher than he could and then kicked two feet above his head.

Mr. Jeffries is traveling in interest of prohibition, and said, "If you spend your money at a butcher shop you have beefsteak to show for it, at a milliner store a hat, and at a saloon nothing but a red nose."

He asked that the girls set a high standard, to have more backbone and not so much wishbone. He said "to make good you must come clean." Clean up citizenship! He was a visitor at the N.C.R. last week and said it was one of the greatest and best concerns he had seen anywhere in the 33 states where he has been lecturing.

Mr. Jeffries is a forceful speaker and has a pleasing personality. He was a railroad man for several years and had many temptations and overcame them. He speaks from experience and not just theory. His talk proved very beneficial to the High School.

Caterpillar as a Builder of Cabins.

The evergreen bagworm may be found on several varieties of the trees from which it takes its name, preferably the red cedar and arborvitae. As a protective dwelling it makes a curious bag remotely resembling the case of the aquatic caddis flies that make homes of tiny pebbles and bits of stick, says Edward F. Bigelow, in Boys' Life. A common form of these caterpillars has the habit of building tiny log cabins. When the caterpillar wishes to move from one place to another, it pushes forth the short end of its body, creeps along and carries the house with it. Some strange stories have centered around these interesting insects. It is said that one species in Ceylon was believed by the natives to be composed of individuals who were previously on earth as human beings and stole kindling wood. After their death as human beings the punishment decreed was that they should return to earth and build homes of kindling wood and carry them.

He gave a demonstration of exercise to develop the throat and neck and some of the exercise used at Battleground Sanitarium. He challenged any one to kick higher than he could and then kicked two feet above his head.

DRUGGISTS STILL ASKED TO CONSERVE STOCKS OF VAPORUB NEEDED IN 'FLU' DISTRICTS

Influenza Epidemic is Decreasing in Most Sections and the Demand is Slackening But We Are Still 18,000 Gross Behind On Orders and it Will Take Some Time to Catch Up.

THREE MILLION JARS SHIPPED DURING OCTOBER.

on request. We will also be glad to mail to any individual one of these booklets, together with a quarter-ounce sample, free.

HOW TO USE VAPORUB IN TREATING SPANISH INFLUENZA

In every case call a physician. Vaporub should be used only in connection with the physician's internal treatment.

Apply hot, wet cloths over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Dry lightly and rub Vaporub well in until the skin is red—spread on thickly and cover with hot flannel cloths. Leave the bed-covering loose around the neck, as the body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors.

These vapors, inhaled with each breath, stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the influenza germs. In case of head or chest cold, which often accompanies influenza, the vapors tend to keep the air passages open, loosen the phlegm and make the breathing easier. In addition, Vaporub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

ENORMOUS SHIPMENTS HAVE WIPED OUT EXCESS STOCKS

On October 1st we had on hand at the factory and in twenty warehouses over the country a tremendous stock of Vaporub, accumulated during the summer months. This is now gone—we actually shipped during the month of October over three million jars of Vaporub. We are speeding up our factory as much as possible and the problem now is to distribute the factory's output as quickly as possible. We have, therefore, for the time being, abandoned freight shipments and are shipping either by Parcel Post or express—trying to give each jobber at least a little stock.

IMMEDIATE SHIPMENTS TO DRUGGISTS IN INFLUENZA DISTRICTS

Preference is being given to those sections stricken by influenza. In order to reach these sections as quickly as can be, we are, during this emergency, making shipments by Parcel Post, direct, to the retail trade, of not more than three (3) dozen 30c size in any one shipment. We prefer that the jobbers order these shipments for their trade, but to save time we will, if the need is urgent, ship direct on receipt of check or money order.

Naturally, no new accounts can be opened during this rush.

SAMPLES AND INFLUENZA BOOKLETS FREE ON REQUEST

We have prepared a little folder giving all the information available so for on Spanish Influenza—its origin—the symptoms and the treatment, and these will be forwarded to druggists

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS BY INHALING VAPORUB

Colds irritate the lining of the air passages and thus render them a much better breeding place for the germs. At the first signs of a cold use Vaporub at once. Melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors arising, or Vaportub can be used in a regular brazier steam kettle, such as most druggists carry in stock. If this is not available, a very good substitute to use is an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half full of boiling water—put in half a teaspoon of Vaporub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

As Light Goes Through Glass

Just as light rays penetrate through glass, so current passes freely through Threaded Rubber Insulation. Nearly 200,000 tiny threads in each insulator mark the path for the current flow.

The hard rubber stands guard against the formation of short circuits between battery plates.

There's another reason why the Still Better Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation is worth so much more than its slightly higher cost. It's the one and only battery with the "Bone Dry" principle that is your absolute assurance of getting a battery as new as the day it left the factory.

TALK NUMBER THREE

There are three general divisions of the Courses of Study at the Conservatory—The "Regular Course," The "Artist Course" and The "Teachers' Course." Each of these courses leads to a final diploma. To complete the regular course, the pupil must cover certain ground, including a course in Harmony. The requirements of the "Artist Course" are that the pupil shall be able to give a complete and artistic public recital in addition to completing the required subjects.

The "Teachers' Course" in the Piano Department is based on the "Progressive Series of Piano Lessons," as published by the Art Publication Society of St. Louis, Mo. This remarkable "text" work, while comparatively new, has already been adopted by thousands of the leading private teachers, Conservatories and Universities of the country, including Cornell University and the Cincinnati Conservatory.

HORSE STARTS FIRE WHICH DESTROYS TWO SMALL BARNS

A horse started a fire which burned two barns and threatened two dwellings on Bellbrook avenue early Tuesday evening.

Cliff Lattimer who rents a barn belonging to Mrs. Theresa Bocklett at the rear of her Bellbrook avenue property, unhitched his horse from his delivery wagon and was removing the harness from the animal in the barn when the horse suddenly kicked him with both feet in the pit of the stomach, knocking him breathless into a corner, and upsetting the lantern into a ton of hay.

The hay blazed up, and it was a minute or so before Mr. Lattimer recovered his breath, and he made his escape from the barn, leading out the horse which had caused the trouble. Mr. Lattimer lost in the fire a ton of hay, five bushels of oats two wagons and two sleighs. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The adjoining barn, belonging to Henry Anderson was in use only for storage, and a quantity of furniture belonging to Thomas Reed, which was stored there was lost. Both barns were insured.

Two double frame dwellings belonging to Mr. Bocklett caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before there was much damage done.

THE FALL MEETING OF LATONIA IS ON

Cincinnati, Nov. 13.—After several weeks of anxious waiting the "victory meeting" of the Latonia Jockey Club will get under way Wednesday. The entries issued Tuesday fairly teem with class, and interesting contests should be the result. Horsemen had about despaired of ever getting to run here this fall, and they were even doubtful of the ability of the Jockey club to get along.

The glorious news settled all misgivings, and they were on hand early to hand in their entries.

Splendid weather and ideal track conditions are promised for the opening day.

A CHILD GETS CROSS, SICK AND FEVERISH WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated clean little liver and bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the "logged-up" constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

AN APPEAL TO GREENE COUNTY TO SUPPORT UNITED WAR WORK DRIVE

BY FATHER JAMES E. QUINN
Pastor St. Brigid's Church.

We are called upon once more in behalf of our brave soldier boys who have fought so gallantly and made such noble and heroic sacrifices in the cause of liberty. It is needless to recount their splendid spirit and achievements as we have all heard and read of them from time to time, and they have indeed crowned themselves with glory and upheld the honor of our country which we love so well, the grandest country on God's earth. They recoiled not from the hardships of camp life, they feared not the dangers of battle, but remembered that they went forth under the Stars and Stripes, the flag most dear to their hearts and which gave them their all. When duty called they left home and fireside and went forth cheerfully, and the spirit of the American soldier and his deeds of valor have amazed and inspired the entire world.

Life in the army and navy entails hardships and sacrifice and we at home who shall partake of the fruits of their labors have an opportunity to show our gratitude. During the present week a campaign for United War Work is being conducted and we are asked to come forward and contribute generously towards this cause. Those good men and women, God bless them, in charge of this work have labored untiringly and their zeal and enthusiasm have been most admirable. They are working for our American boys and appeal to you for help in this splendid cause. It would be the height of ingratitude should this appeal be in vain, and nothing cuts to the heart like ingratitude. It is a dagger which pierces the very soul. The armistice has been signed but the boys are not yet home and it may be a long time before many of them are home. They need the same material and spiritual comforts at present which they needed in the past, and it is our duty to see that they are given, and this to the utmost of our ability. When they return let it not be said that we failed to do our part. We have all duties to perform as true

The telegram reads:

"Just received the following cable from 'somewhere in Holland.' 'Can you get your brother George to come and my six sons some kind of light unskilled labor in his rone walk. Don't expect much wages at first.'

(Signed) "W. J. Hohenzollern."

This fellow seems to be in a serious need of a job, if you can't place him, see if Ed. Schmidt could use him on one of his ice wagons. I am so depressed over the plight of the Hohenzollerns that I am tempted to step out and drown dull care in sarsaparilla."

Fred C. Kelly has been connected with the Department of Justice since last June, having given his services voluntarily to that department as one of the "dollar a year" men who are assisting the government in various capacities.

SOLDIERS HOME IN TIME TO CELEBRATE

Jamestown felt quite proud of herself Monday, when four of the local boys came home on furloughs, just in time to help celebrate the signing of the armistice. Wilbur Thomas who enlisted in the navy about a year ago has been on a convoy ship and just got back from overseas, and is spending ten days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thomas. Ross Stoner also a sailor in the U. S. Navy is home on a ten day furlough. Dallas Cooper, who is stationed at Hampton Roads, Virginia, is home and will spend the time in Jamestown as the guest of relatives and friends. Claud Glass who has been up at Camp Sherman for some time is home on a ten day furlough.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

THOUSANDS OF MEN FOR MERCHANT MARINE

Washington, Nov. 13—Orders to rush recruiting of men for the crews of merchant ships were sent today to agents of the Shipping Board in all parts of the country.

"We shall want thousands of men for our fleets," Chairman Hurley said. "Our recruiting service and training ships will keep right on preparing men for jobs on merchant ships. The service is training at present 4,000 apprentices a month and we are planning to increase its output and the Shipping Board will continue until further notice to accept men between 18 and 35 inclusive for training. We want to build up an all-American personnel for the great merchant marine."

Most Widely Read Farm Publications in the United States give the Facts on Startling Live Stock Development

"Passed by the Capital Issues Committee as not incompatible with the national interests, but without approval of legality, validity, worth or security. Opinion No. A-434."

"The Country Gentleman" is one of the most widely read farming publications in the United States. It is published by The Curtis Publishing Co., who also publish "The Saturday Evening Post" and "The Ladies' Home Journal," and no one doubts the reliability of this, the greatest publishing house in America.

In "The Country Gentleman" of October 19th, October 26th and November 2d there appeared articles under the head, "THE SOUTH AS THE COMING STOCK LAND OF AMERICA." The thoughtful reader will realize that a revolution has come in live stock production. Here are a few extracts from "The Country Gentleman":

The South "The South is fairly galloping into the meat business. It is running ahead of its pork production quota and passing all cattle expectations. As a result, when Europe subsides to peace and undertakes to satisfy that meat appetite with which mess call has branded millions of peasants, the South will not bid against them for every mouthful of animal flesh. Indeed, the South expects to sell them meat, thus fulfilling its natural destiny to become the greatest cheap-meat region in the United States.

"In another article I should like to say something more specific about the South's cattle opportunities, for Dixie is the best hope of home-grown meat for the United States. Cattle fit into all its important problems, and are the solution of most of them, and the South is well aware of it. It is grasping its opportunities rapidly, eagerly.

Nineteen Killing Plants "Those who want the calmest and most exacting sort of proof of this can find it in Now in South the fact that the South is being dotted with killing plants by the packers.

"There are nineteen killing plants in the South under Government inspection. On some of these the hammers are still beating. None are old. That is what the packers think of the South.

"For a moment let's look at sandy, sunny Florida, with its abundance of water and its cheap lands. Despite the fact that the oldest city in the United States is located there, it is still part of the frontier, as regards opportunity. Indeed, George M. Rommel, chief of the Animal Husbandry Division of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, DECLARER NO OTHER STATE HAS SUCH CATTLE CHANCES.

It has always been a great cattle state and always will be. IT HAS MORE NATURAL ADVANTAGES THAN ANY OTHER STATE IN THE UNITED STATES. Florida has no screw worms, no ear ticks and no coyotes.

Natural Country "The South, which surprised the North and West last summer with its record-price steers, also has hogs. A bunch of Northern swine breeders made this discovery only this year.

"They learned, for instance, that the South is a natural swine country which can produce pork very cheaply because it has the pasture, the feed and the right type of animals.

The Southern Ruralist, W. L. Glessner, Field Representative of Atlanta, Ga., Says Big Things Are Being Done being done by big men in a big way with big results' for I had a few days before I seen some of the big things being done in that county.

"I was impressed with the Walkill Farm as being the most practical demonstration of the possibilities of the live stock industry in the South that I have seen. There is nothing fancy or fussy about this farm — everything is plain and practical, business-like. It shows not only what can be done with wealth, but it contains many lessons of what can be done with small means, for everything is utilized."

"And as the finished demonstration became a visible entity men wondered that so much could have been performed in such a short period. For the essential thing has been accomplished. The way had been made clear for all and sundry to follow. 'Can do' had become 'It is done.'

The Farm and Live Stock Record, Jacksonville, Fla., Recognizes Epoch-Making Operations

"On November 5, 1916, Walkill was practically 14,000 acres of wild land. Beginning on that day were the first of the epoch-making operations which are making Dollings and Walkill a popular topic for conversation in the state of Florida.

"Had I not been told better, I should have thought there must have been at least three or four years of activity responsible for the improvements which were visible.

"Here, a little more than a year after the commencement of things, there were more than a thousand head of cattle grazing on the Walkill pastures.

"Hundreds of sleek hogs were visible in the fields.

"Substantial buildings and silos, such as one ordinarily associates with several years of successful farming, reared their culmines against the sky everywhere."

Taken from The Florida Grower, Tampa, Fla. "Yes, Dollings hires brains. But not for and with money alone. He fully appreciates the importance of the personal equation and so well understands that men's best work is done only when their heart interest is enlisted. So he ties men to him and to his enterprises with bonds that endure because they are founded on mutual respect, harmony of interest and fairness of participation alike in opportunity to serve and assurance of profit.

"'Can do.' Unconsciously using the spirit of the favorite expression of my old Chinese friend, Colonel Dollings some years ago indicated to his intimates that he had decided to undertake the solution of the problem of increasing meat production at lower costs than them prevailed.

"Those who were in his confidence know that this determination in no sense was based on snap judgment. On the contrary, it was the result of most careful study and of thorough investigation. Colonel Dollings had secured the opinions of many experts, had checked and counter-checked these, and retained as the foundation of his effort those in which he had found absolute agreement.

Success "Then he began to do things. Not with a blare of trumpets nor an outbreak of publicity, but silently and swiftly. As a matter of fact, his indifference to newspaper notices has been the despair of more than one reporter who saw in Colonel Dollings' activities 'copy' of a most excellent character.

"A proposition of such vast importance and great magnitude as this latest undertaking of Colonel Dollings isn't handled in an hour. But never was there a moment's time lost. The preliminary progress may have seemed slow to casual observers, but those 'in the know' saw that it was surprisingly swift.

"And as the finished demonstration became a visible entity men wondered that so much could have been performed in such a short period. For the essential thing has been accomplished. The way had been made clear for all and sundry to follow. 'Can do' had become 'It is done.'
